Project Title: Onychophora (Velvet Worms)

Wikipedia Article: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Onychophora

This project will be a responsive, multi-page website, with a navigation menu at the top. The site content will be stylized with silhouettes depicting/related to the content (for example, the navigation menu will be shaped like a velvet worm body, with links situated at different “sections” of the worm).

- Home Page/Introduction – Brief introduction explaining what velvet worms are, with 1-3 relevant images.
- Origins/Evolution – Origins of velvet worms, and creatures related to them.
- Anatomy – Description of velvet worms’ identifying traits, with more specific, diagrammatic images.
- Habitat – Description of velvet worms’ habitats.
- Feeding – Description and visuals (likely GIF images or embedded .mp4 files) of the velvet worm’s hunting and feeding methods.
- Conservation – List of factors that negatively impact the velvet worm’s habitat and population.
- Sources – Page citing the original wikipedia article, any other sources used for research, as well as further reading/viewing if applicable.
